Kurzbeschreibung "Dick Figures," created by Ed Skudder and Zack Keller, started as a simple web-series about two dysfunctional friends, Red and Blue, who make up for what they lack in smarts and sex appeal with a really long string of bad decisions. Hundreds of millions of views later it became not only an international sensation and a record-breaking crowd-funding campaign, but a feature-length animated film! "The Art of Dick Figures The Movie" collects for the first time exclusive designs, sketches and stories from the production of the most ambitious stick figures movie ever made.

ber den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Ed Skudder is a creator, writer, director and voice of "Red" and many others in Dick Figures The Movie. After animating on commercials and award-winning shorts at USC's School of Cinematic Arts, Ed found his way to the animation studio Six Point Harness. He worked on a wide range of feature films, television shows and more until founding the production company Remochoso with his long-time friend Zack Keller. There the two spent time creating music videos, short films, commercials and development for companies ranging from McDonald's to Jim Henson to Lionsgate. In 2010 Ed created the hit show Dick Figures which has become the highest viewed and rated animated web series on YouTube with more than 350 million views and counting. After four successful and award-winning seasons, and co-creating another show Dogsnack with Lynn Wang, Ed teamed up with Zack, Six Point Harness and Mondo Media to successfully Kickstart Dick Figures The Movie, raising over $313,000. With his first film wrapping up, Ed looks forward to more animated features, series and music videos coming soon. Zack Keller is a writer, director and voice of Blue in Dick Figures The Movie. After attending USC's School of Cinematic Arts, he joined Pixar Animation Studios where he worked on the Academy Award winning films Ratatouille, WALL-E, and Up. Zack founded the production company Remochoso with Ed Skudder and directed high-profile commercials (McDonalds, Microsoft), music videos, and Dick Figures, the highest viewed and rated animated web series on YouTube with over 350 million views and counting. Thanks to the overwhelming support of their fans, Zack and Ed were able raise $313,000 through Kickstarter to fund a feature-length version of their popular web series. Along with Ed, Zack has been nominated for Best Directing for an Animated Television Production at the Annie Awards and Best Animated Series at the Streamy Awards and IAWTV Awards. Next on the horizon for Zack are more feature films along with his second novel and comic book.
