CantwellElvis I knew was a superstar, authentic country gentleman and unprejudiced that cherished being around those that regarded him as an ordinary person.ber den Autor und weitere MitwirkendeRobert C. Cantwell was a Golden Glove competitor, nonetheless afraid to take the police entry exam never dreaming he would accomplish his life goal of being a police officer. He would climb through every rank in the Denver Police Department; become the Director of Prisons for the Colorado Department of Correction; and the Director of the Colorado Bureau of Investigation. After 48 years he would retire from Law Enforcement. He personally met a long list of famous people including the King-Elvis Presley. He has told many about the time he was with Elvis and was encouraged to retell his story in a book. This is his first written account of the time he was with Elvis from 1970-1977.
